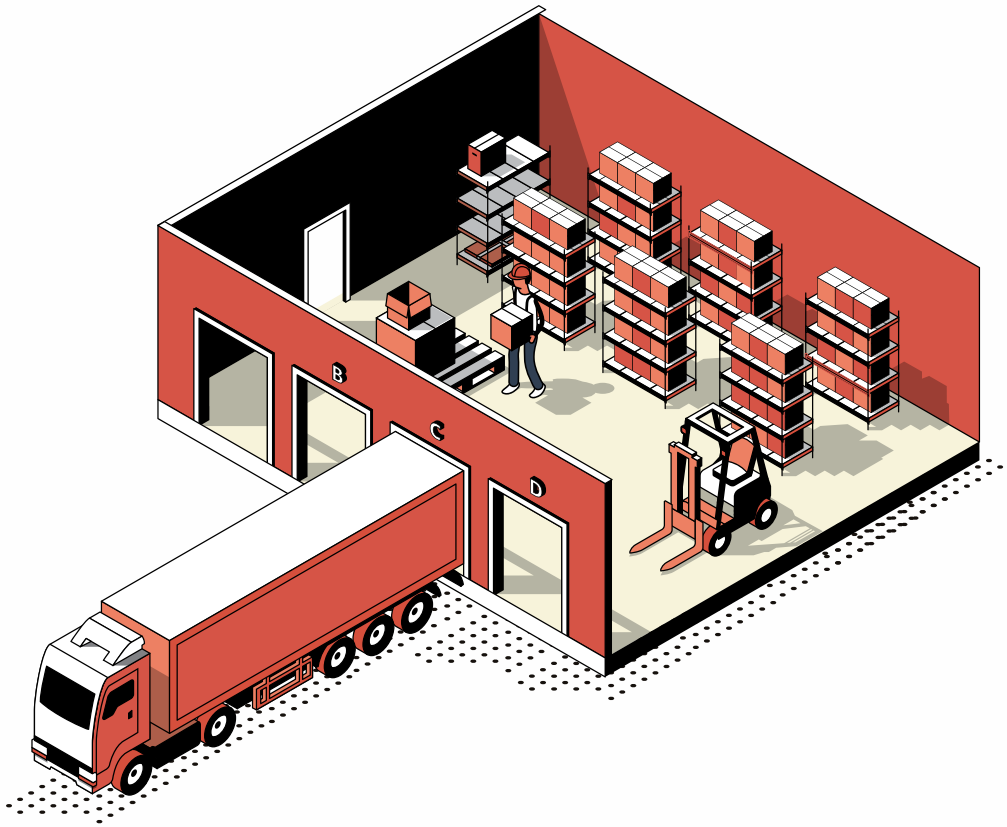
ADVANTAGES

ADVANTAGES:

Delivery of cargo to the destination in the shortest possible time - much faster than by land and water transport

Cargo and storage conditions are better protected during air transportation, so the transport of perishable, expensive and dangerous cargo by air is primarily recommended;

Cargo can be transported anywhere (including places where we cannot transport by other means).



According to the requirements, to fulfill customer orders, it is necessary to create an assortment of services, and the essential part of this service (supply chain) is the warehouse.

The main reasons for using warehouses in the logistics system are: reducing costs during shipping and ensuring a continuous delivery process. To maximize customer needs, Royal Express has warehousing space in different countries.
